Miss Mattie Waugh Smith Weds
Francis Boyle—Jury Disagrees
in the Sinclair Case.

Alexandria, Va., April 10.—Miss Mattie Waugh Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Smith, and Mr. Francis Boyle, of Auburn, N. Y., were married early to-night at the residence of the bride's parents, 101 Cameron street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McHaff, of Auburn, N. Y., assisted by Rev. H. J. Carter, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, this city. The wedding was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride entered the drawing-room to the strains of the wedding march played by Prof. Edwin Ewell, of Washington. She was gowned in duchesse satin trimmed in pearl and shadow lace fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms. On her head she wore a necklace and bracelet of topaz, the gift of the bride's grandfather and grandmother.

The bride was attended by Miss Anna Boyle, who wore a gown of blue silk with moonstone and silver trimmings. The bride's mother wore black over satin and gold fringe.

Following the wedding ceremony, there was a reception, which was attended by a large number of guests.

The ladies serving in the dining-room, which were decorated in white and green, with electrical effects, were Miss Gertrude Bull, Farmville, Va., in a gown of yellow satin and silver trimmings; Miss Helen Calvert, of Alexandria County, in white chiffon over pink silk; Miss Helen Knoch, of Washington, D. C., in pink silk and silver trimmings; Miss Lillian Brown, of Manassas, Va., in blue silk and silver trimmings; Mrs. Thomas A. Fisher, this city, in white chiffon over white satin and silver trimmings and a diamond necklace, and Miss R. B. Hill, this city, in white chiffon over white satin and silver fringe.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Towson, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard, Mr. Coffin, and Mrs. Claude Thomas and Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. Rose Knoch, Harry L. Eiden and Mrs. Sedon, Richard Carter and Mrs. Carter, Fenton Leith and Mrs. Leith, M. Smith and Mrs. Smith, Dr. Applegate and Mrs. Applegate, John R. Knoch and Mrs. Knoch, Charles Hunt, Mrs. Virginia Knoch, Miss Helen Popam, William Fitzhugh and Mrs. Fitzhugh, Miss Minnie Dallery, Stewart Brand and Mrs. Brand, Frank Bell and Mrs. Bell, George Smith and Mrs. Smith, J. B. Jordan and Mrs. Jordan, Charles Towson and Mrs. Towson, Miss Towson, Mr. Fowell, Miss Morgan, Miss Gertrude Hall, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Bernard, Raleigh, N. C.; John Milton Nelson and Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. George R. Finch, Mrs. Elizabeth Hart, of Baltimore; Mrs. John Boyle, mother of the bridegroom; Miss Anna Boyle and Gordon Boyle, of Auburn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle left for an extended Northern trip.

The jury sitting in the case of E. L. Sinclair against Fairfax & Co., this city, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, announced its inability to reach an agreement and was discharged by Judge Thomas W. Harrison, of Winchester, Va. Attorneys for the plaintiff moved for a change of venue, which was continued until the next term of court.

The case went to the jury late yesterday afternoon and shortly before 7 o'clock the jury had not reached an agreement and was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when they again took up the consideration of the case.

This is the second time this case has been tried, the last time being November last, and the jury was unable to agree.

The suit involves eighty barrels of liquor valued at about $4,000 which Fairfax & Co. refused to accept, alleging that it did not come up to the specifications.

"The Cricket on the Hearth" will be presented by a number of young ladies Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Young People's Building of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, under the direction of Miss Rose McDonald. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

The following will participate in the cast: Misses Bessie Doniphan, Mary Ellen Harriman, Della Phillips, Lillian Darkey, Anna Barick, Louis Paff, Harriet Spofford, Anna Howard, and Missa Schneider.

The second part of the programme will be contributed by Prof. Willoughby Field, who will give a number of readings. There will also be a vocal selection by Miss Margaret Field. The entertainment will be concluded by the rendition of two numbers, "Absent" and "Good Night," from the opera "Martha," by a quartet composed of Mrs. R. F. Downham, soprano; Mrs. M. W. O'Brien, con-

James McIlmott and Harry Dorf, soldiers from Washington Barracks, were in the Police Court to-day, held for the action of the grand jury on a charge of assaulting and robbing Arthur E. Thompson, a soldier from Fort Hunt, Va. The robbery occurred on the night of March 22 at the end of South Royal Street.

Thompson said three soldiers accompanied him, and that after going to the end of Royal Street he was knocked on the head and had lost a film-recognition of what happened afterward until he awoke in the hospital. The men, he said, in removing his clothing, valued at $50, left the hospital of their nails on his finger. He said they also obtained about $2 in cash. Policeman Wilkerson, who had been working on the case, testified to what he learned in conversation with it.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Massey took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Wheatley's undertaking establishment. Services were conducted by Rev. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Harrington left to-day for Boston, where they will reside in the future.

Miss Laura V. Summers, of Barnstable, Mass., is visiting her uncle, C. J. W. Summers, this city.

D. A. R. HEAR OF JUVENILE REFORM

O. E. Darnall Addresses Society on "The Conservation of the Child."

Prominent speakers at last night's open meeting of the Constitution Chapter, D. A. R., at the Arlington Hotel, discussed a number of subjects of public interest, prominent among which was the address of O. E. Darnall, who spoke on the "Conservation of the Child."

Referring to the classes which bring children to the reform schools, Mr. Darnall said: "In one reformatory a record was made of 500 inmates as they were received. Ninety-three per cent acknowledged that they had been accustomed to bad associations; 31 per cent used tobacco, 60 per cent came from disturbed homes, either death or separation, and 6 per cent came as a direct result of intoxicating liquors."

Mr. Darnall advocated prohibition as the best way to eradicate the evil, and "if we cannot get prohibition, the best manner of conserving the interests of our children and our homes is to effect as stringent regulations as possible governing the sale and use of intoxicants. In my mind the Works excise bill now pending in the Senate is, in its provisions, a true conservator of the home, of the children in that home, and of society generally, and if we are really interested in the conservation of our children we should not withhold our endorsement of that measure, which, if enacted into law, will mean true conservation of our homes, hence the child."

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Munsey spoke of women in legislation, and said that the bill appropriating $20,000 to start a national training school for girls was in danger of never coming out of the committee in Congress. She advised the members to use their influence to have the bill reported favorably.

Miss Mary Wood, of New York, spoke of the "Influence of Women in Politics," and referred to Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, one of the first women honored by political conventions, to be invited to their councils. Miss Wood said that there are to-day nearly 6,000,000 women wage earners, who are to be found in all lines of trades and the professions.

The Red Cross was the theme of an address by Miss Mabel Boardman, who discussed the growing work of
